Haley Crabtree, Terra State Community College

: Following up to the discussion at the November CAE Community meeting, this presentation will discuss the 45 ethical hacking labs that were established at University of Wisconsin-Stout. This follow up will give attendees the opportunity to understand the steps that UW-Stout took to set up and make these labs a success. Specific topics this will focus on are: the design and development of these labs, as well as the lab infrastructure, and how UW-Stout shared these labs with 25 Technical Colleges in Wisconsin and Minnesota through a four-day workshop. Even if you missed the November introduction, please join us.

A recording of the live presentation will be available within 48 hours of the presentation at:
