

Diagram 1: A large rectangular frame with a cyan header bar at the top. The frame contains a vertical column of small black square markers on the left side and a vertical column of small black square markers with a horizontal line above them on the right side. The markers are arranged in a regular grid pattern.

Diagram 2: A large rectangular frame with a cyan header bar at the top. The frame contains a vertical column of small black square markers on the left side, with some markers having a small white square next to them. On the right side, there is a vertical column of small black square markers with a horizontal line above them. The markers are arranged in a regular grid pattern.