

Liberal Studies Committee Minutes
August 30, 2007
3:15 pm

Present: M. Sadler, G. Wilson, T. Wacker, F. Slack, C. Zoni, M Swinker (substitute)
Excused: K. McKee, Y. Asamoah
Guest: Dr. Nicholas Kolb

Dr. Kolb asked the committee to consider allowing CJC 201 Introduction to Criminalistics to count as a non-lab science in the proposed articulation agreement between CCAC and IUP for the Criminal Justice program. Following much discussion, the committee recommended that Dr. Kolb and Dr. Giever present their request to the College of Natural Science and Mathematics for input. Since an articulation agreement is considered a legal contract and since it will be published, the members felt that the College of Natural Science and Mathematics should be apprised of the situation and given the opportunity to either teach another non-lab science at the Monroeville site and to offer feedback on the appropriateness of CJC201 as a non-
